IT was a horsey week. The horse on the When balcony wonfirst prize. The thousands who visited the WHEN exhibited"Horse sense." The other thousands who waited until this week to do so are also wise, for it is to be a week of underwear bargains with Overcoats on the side. These are strenuous days for our goodnatured young clerks at the WHEN.

CALLED TO CIVIL-SERVICE LAW.

Executive Order Based on an Opinion by the Attorney General-Political Contributions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. - President Roosevelt to-day issued the following executive order:

"On request of the civil-service commission, the attorney general has submitted Bay last July on the charge of having to me the following opinion:

me to advise you relative to the subject of political contributions as shown by the respective correspondence which you en- report of Vernon M. The commission pointed out the illegality of this circular because it carried on its heading price by competent pharmacists, highest the names of Senator Quay and Mr. Andrews, and directed its recall; and this A. Dick (member of Congress) and of various federal officials, and stating that any assistance which the addressee can give as one of those directly interested in party success in Ohio will be gratefully acknowledged. It seems that this circular was sent to certain federal officials and that the commission demanded its withdrawal and that the executive committee declined or neglected to accede to this demand.

"The question presented is covered by Setcion II of the civil-service act, which provides: 'That no senator, or representaive, or territorial delegate of the Congress, or senator, representative or delegate-elect, or any officer, or employe of either of said houses, and no executive, judicial, military or naval officer of the United States, and no clerk or employe of any department, branch or bureau of the executive, judicial or military or naval service of the United States, shall directly or indirectly solicit of scription, or contribution for any political purpose whatever, from any officer, clerk or employe of the United States, or any department, branch or bureau thereof, or from any person receiving any salary or compensation from moneys derived from the business of the United States.' "'Whatever the particular form of words adopted in such circulars in order to show a request rather than a demand, and to give responses a quasi voluntary character, the explicit and comprehensive words of the statute forbidding those barred by their public relations to solicit from fed eral officials, directly or indirectly, or to "be in any manner concerned in soliciting or receiving any assessment, subscription or contribution for any political purpose whatever," unquestionably condemn all such circulars. They should not be sent to federal officials, or else they should not bear the names of the public officers and employes designated in the act. In 21 .Od. 300. Attorney General Harmon said: "All who are in the government service are thus protected against the possibility of actual coercion and from coercion implied in the relation of the persons soliciting or receiving to the government or implied in solicitation or receipt in a public office; but licitation by or payment to persons not in the government service otherwise than in government offices.' 'It is also pertinent to notice Section 14 of the act, namely: That no officer, clerk or other person in the service of the United States or to any senator or member of the House of Representatives, or territorial delegate, any money or other valuable thing on account of or to be applied to the promotion of any political object whatever. Your power to direct, by appropriate orders, under the mandates of these sections, all persons in the executive service of the United States is clear.'

"I hereby call the attention of all officers and employes in the federal service to the foregoing opinion, and warn them that the provisions of law as therein construed are to be by them obeyed and enforced. Any ATTENTION OF OFFICEHOLDERS official in the federal service may without jeopardy to his official standing contribute or not exactly as he pleases, provided he obeys the sections of the civil-service act above referred to.

ANOTHER DAY DEVOTED TO THE WOMAN'S MISSION BOARD.

Indianians Elected Officers-Christian Endeavor Rally Attended by Ten Thousand Persons.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 18 .- The arrival of delegates to the National Convention of the Disciples of Christ has not diminished with the progress of the convention, and this morning's trains brought nearly 2,000 more Christians, most of them coming from

The sessions to-day were again given over to the Women's Board of Misisons and the first session began with a Bible study conducted by Wallace C. Payne, of Kansas, following which was a brief period of worship. The report of the committee on educational work in the United States | that two to three years' purchase and a was read by Mrs. W. C. Payne, who outlined the work accomplished during the year, and made several recommendations for extensions and school building for the coming year. Miss Carpenter, dean of Women of Drake University, Des Moines, delivered the morning address on "The College Girl and Missions.' The report on negro evangelization and education was then delivered by C. C. Smith, of Cincinnati, field chairman for the showed that $10,527 had been expended on this work during the year just ended, and that the board now owned property valued at $48,875, the result of the year's labor with the colored people. An address on "The White Man's Burden in America" by Prof. Annie R. Bourne, of Kentucky University, also touched on the subject of negro evangelization.

The presentation of missionaries, which came just before the noon adjournment, was an impressive ceremony. The candidates and their assignments are as follows: Dr. Rosa Lee Oxer and Miss Elsie Gordon, Mahobia, India; Miss Wyrick and Miss Stella Franklin, general work in India. Mrs. J. H. Garrison, of Missouri, led the devotional period at the afternoon session and a report of the committee on young people's work was read by Mrs. Kate W. Bellamy, of Indiana. The afternoon address was by Mrs. F. D. Pettit, of Colorado, and Mrs. V. C. Hedges, of Missouri, pre-sented a report on the work in Mexico. The election of officers resulted: President, Nancy E. Atkinson, Wabash, Ind.; vice president, Mrs. Effie Cunningham; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Moses; recording secretary, Mrs. S. E. Gray; treas-urer, Miss Mary Judson; superintendent young people's work, Mrs. Mattle Pounds, all of Indianapolis and all being re-elected. The woman's board resolved to raise $175,000 the coming year. The session closed with an address by Mrs. Persis L. Christian, of Arkansas. The general board of the Foreign Missionary Society held its annual session in the First Christian Church this afternoon, sixty-nine members being present. Rev. W. J. Russell, of Philadelphia, presided and the principal business was that of hearing reports and electing officers for the ensuing year. The officers elected were:

Political Crisis That May Worry the

Secretary Wyndham Said to Have impression of the scene caused by the Irish members in the House of Commons Thursday, and what he believes it por-

"I have seen many strange and exciting scenes in the House of Commons, but that of Thursday was the most strange and most exciting. It deserves serious notice as a symptom of and clew to the present political condition. John O'Donnell, the chief character therein, is not the kind of man one would expect to see figure in such a scene. He is one of those men who show the remarkable power of Irishmen rising equal to great situations, however humble and unpromising their origin. He was born in a little cottage on one of those small patches of land in the west of Irewhich was tempestuous and in violation of every rule of order, with the speaker, ministers and all shouting, and the majority helpless, and then afterwards to see him in front of the prime minister, who sat pallid with a sickly smile on his face; to see this was one of the most curious proofs

"Of all the points of that terrible scene, was the absolute helplessness, the cowed inaction of the Unionist majority, so divided and harassed by the sense of the irresistible doom coming hourly upon their leaders that they cannot conceal their dethere was the other reason the specter of Ireland, which was supposed to be laid, had risen again, more menacing than ever.

And, finally, there was perhaps some sense of shame at the feeling that this man who was calling for the right to be heard in the House of Commons had been gagged in Ireland by systematic persecution worthy of Russia at her worst. He has spent eighteen months in jail during the last three or four years and has been dragged from platforms by the police before he opened his lips, and he was recently subjected to a sentence which is an example of deliberate ferocity, his last sentence of six months, Oct. 14, having been so given by the magistrate that O'Donnell has to spend six weeks on a plank bed and nine days on bread and water. All this suffering of the past and to come was written in legible letters on the pale face and in the excited eyes of this ordinarily quiet gentleman. This perhaps was why the ministerialists sat cowed, helpless and abashed at the scene, one of the signs of some great coming change.

it will take the shape of a startling, giganten of the landlords to attend a conference only kept from triumph by the fact that the leaders of the landlords are wealthy, with estates in England, and are, there fore, independent of Irish agitation, and because they are, besides, politicians first and landlords afterwards. Every thinking man, whether landlord or tenant, believes small grant from the imperial exchequer are all that is now standing between Ireland and a final settlement of the land question and the reconquest of the land by the Celts from the English garrison. Among those who think that a gigantic surrender is inevitable at an early day is, I have reason to believe, the Irish chief secretary, Mr. Wyndham himself. He urged the landlords to consent to a conference, even traveling long distances to ar, and I have heard he has said private ly that coercion might be over in three weeks in case of certain events, whereby I understood he meant that if the landlords and tenants agreed on a common basis of settlement. "In the meantime pressure on the government is coming from various quarters. It is doubtful if the government can carry the education bill without violent closure, which may lead to scenes inside the house by the English nonconformists very like those caused by O'Donnell, so vehement is party passion, and outside it may produce outbreaks in England, also of the Irish pattern. The attempt to force the Irish members into the ministerial lobby on the education bill died on the first night of the session when Mr. Balfour insulted Ireland by refusing to give her a day to voice her wrongs. "To sum up, the Irish members feel that they have scored. Nobody has a good word to say for the maladroit antics of Mr. Balfour. The government is threatened from many quarters and is divided, and is, I believe doomed, while Ireland has once more rushed into the foremost place in the great drama of British politics."

GERMAN TARIFF BILL.

Government Warned by an Agrarian to Beware Fall of Monarchy.

BERLIN, Oct. 18 .- During the debate on the tariff bill in the Reichstag to-day Baron Von Wangentheim, of the Farmers' Union, after stating that Chancellor Von Buelow's speech Thursday destroyed all chance of the passage of the bill, caused a scene of excitement and great uproar by declaring that if the government continued to pursue the policy of the caprievira they Rev. A. I. Myhr, Nashville, president, and | were themselves sawing off the branch on which the monarchy rested. Another scene of excitement was precipitated by Herr Stadthagen, Social Democrat, who violently attacked the supporters of Baron Von Wangenhein, the Agrarian leader, and characterizes them as thieves and robbers. He was called to order and the debate was adjourned to Mon-

that the three days' discussion of the tariff bill in the Reichstag has rendered the failure of the measure more probable than ever. Chancellor Von Buelow's speech, announcing the uncompromising attitude of the ministers, is regarded as equivalent pated in the service and took up the chorus to being the death blow of the bill. Present appearances indicate that the measure will be defeated by an enormous majority. will vote against it because it is too Agrarian and two Conservative parties will reenough. Only the National Liberals and some irregulars will support the governdenied that the movement was waning, ment. Herr Herold, the Centrists' spokessaying that its golden age was not in the | man, announced in the Reichstag that the Centrists would adhere to the agrarian duties. The Conservatives have held caucus since Von Buelow's speech and they are resolved not to yield an inch. Newspaper comment is practically all one way, agreeing that the measure is one way, agreeing that the measure is doomed. The Agrarian Tages Zeitung says: "The matter is settled, but we will fight to the last ditch."

The Franfurter Zeitung remarks that the bill's death sentence has been pronounced only school here using the Laboratory Methods. Only school here teaching touch (or plano) type-writing and English. American Generals Gratified at the Display of English Hospitality. LONDON, Oct. 18 .- The visit of Generals Corbin and Young to England was concluded this morning when they left Waterloo Railroad Station to embark on the American-line steamer Philadelphia; at Southampton. A crowd of friends was present, including Sir Thomas Lipton, Secretary Carter, representing Ambassador Choate, Naval Attache Clover and Military Attache Cassatt. The special saloon car reserved for the American officers was filled with the military chiefs, their aids-de-camp and the ladies of the party. Sir Thomas Lipton presented Mrs. Corbin with a large General Young said: "The trouble with English hospitality is that they make you feel that you are doing them a favor in accepting it. It was all, and a little more than we could do to take advantage of all the kindnesses proffered. Our stay was a little longer than we expected, and now I am looking forward to going back to work at the war college.' King Edward asked the generals for their photographs. One of the most interesting features of the stay of the generals here was the visit which they made at Farnborough to former Empress Eugenie, who was quite delighted to make the acquaintance of the Americans. The Empress usually retains strict seclusion in her quiet country home, and the occasion was an exception. One of those present said: "I have m seen such a picturesque contrast of the old world and the new, as when Empress Eugenie, leaning on the arm of General Young, who towered above her, as she conducted the Americans over her residence, pointed out priceless mementoes of the imperial days of France."

"The Battle of Taku."

BERLIN, Oct. 18 .- The advance sheets of Josef Herring's book, "The Battle of Taku," of which engagement he was an eyewitness, says, discussing American nonparticipation: "The Monocacy, called by land which are most remarkable specimens | the Chinese the Jinrickasha of the sea, beof the wreckage of centuries. Yet he cause she was a side-wheeler, was anchored speaks eloquently, chastely and the strong off the railway depot at Tong-Ku before a face of sweetness and refinement, as Tien-Tsin brought hundreds of fugitives, many of whom were taken on board the Monocacy, she having received orders from house for a quarter of an hour amid a din | Washington not to take part in the fighting. This displeased the American officers very much. When mingling with the officers of other nations on the wharf on the Pei-Ho the Americans expressed dissatiserally sympathized with the feelings of the Americans, who did not want to see the fight without taking a hand in it. Captain sion of the United States' action, which was confined to the juniors. During the bombardment the Monocacy was struck by two shells from the forts. Captain White would like to have gone into action then, but could not do so because his vessel was crowded with noncombatants."

> Emperor William to Young Germany. BERLIN, Oct. 18 .- At Fehrbellin, Brandenburg, to-day a monument was unveiled in the presence of Emperor William to the memory of the Great Elector and his defeat of the Swedes there in 1675. His Majesty in a speech took occasion to exhort young Germany to emulate the spirit of the Elector. After alluding to the achievements of the latter and to those of Frederick the Great, he continued: "We had nevertheless to pass through Jena and Tilsit. That was the furnace in which God in His providence considered it necessary to test the gold of Germany and the mark of Brandenburg. It has been vouschafed to me to administer in times of peace the heritage of my ancestors, but even in such times we can only undisturbedly devote ourselves to the pursuits of peace provided our sons continue as was done in the past to regard as their noblest and highest duty the defense of the father-

> General Strike in France Proposed. PARIS, Oct. 18 .- According to the Patrie the General Confederation of Labor is considering the question of a strike of all the trades unions of France in favor of eight hours' work per day and old age pensions, etc., as demanded by the striking miners. A manifesto to the various unions is said to have been drafted, pointing out that the time is most favorable for such a movement and asking them to deliberate the question. A meeting will be held next Monday to decide on the action to be taken. The miners' strike continues peacefully. The leaders declare that 160,000 men
